Boston Entrepreneur Announces Senate Challenge Against Warren

US 07:22 25.02.2017

Boston-based Entrepreneur V. A. Shiva Ayyadurai has announced his candidacy for the US Senate seat currently occupied by Elizabeth Warren.

WASHINGTON (Sputnik), Andrew Feinberg — Citing his zeal for "defending the American dream," Boston-based Entrepreneur V. A. Shiva Ayyadurai has announced his candidacy for the US Senate seat currently occupied by Elizabeth Warren.

Sen. Warren Asks Why Clinton Ally Wasn't Investigated in 2008 Financial Crisis

"For me, its about defending the American dream... a real fighter and a real innovator exposing a fake fighter, which is what Elizabeth Warren is all about. I look forward to all your support because this is going to be a grassroots movement ... delivering a Senate victory for a real Indian versus a fake Indian in Massachusetts," Ayyadurai said on Friday.

Ayyadurai is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and is best known for his claim to have invented email which is disputed by historians.

He announced his candidacy at a private event hosted by controversial figure Mike Cernovich, who organized the January "Deplora-ball" event at the National Press Club that was the site of riots by protesters opposed to Donald Trump's inauguration as US President.
